MICHAEL COLLINS NAMED CHIEF OF FREE STATE ARMY

Former Commander Is Appointed Head of National Campaign. Looms Extensive Operations are Believed Near. Drive to Oust Rebels.

Dublin.—Michael Collins has been appointed commander in chief of the Irish national army. It was officially announced Thursday.

London.—The provisional Irish free state government's decision to concentrate its energies on over-coming the republicans and establishing order throughout the country before summoning the new parliament is taken to indicate that military operations on a considerable scale are impending.

The republicans, since their defeat in Dublin, have strengthened their position in the southwest and are now prepared to put up a big fight.

Cork is supposed to rank as the republican capital, but the military headquarters are either at Mallow or Limerick.

The situation in Limerick is continually reported. According to one version there was sharp fighting in the town Tuesday night, while the other version is that peace is being maintained under a truce.

Meanwhile the national army is reported to be strengthened daily, recruits being sent to various departments for intensive training.

REPUBLICANS CLAIM GENERALS CAPTURED

They Will Aid in International No-More War Demonstrations

Washington.—Ten nations are participating this year in the "No-More War" celebration, to be held July 23 and 24, the anniversary of the outbreak of the World War. A special convention has been called at the National League of Women Voters by Miss Katherine Ludington and Mrs. J. Borden Harriman.

Seven American cities, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Washington, Boston and Detroit, are arranging special demonstrations varying from a torchlight procession to an all-day relay parade.

At Westford, the irregulars had made elaborate plans for a siege, but the night prior to the arrival of the national forces they abandoned the town. The siege then happened also at New Ross and Gorey.

Before feeling the irregulars set fire to the public market house, the post office and a number of adjoining buildings.

Ex-Judge to Be Shot on Charge of Wife Murder

Salt Lake City.—Omar R. Woods, a native of Knoxville, Tenn., and former probate judge and prosecuting attorney for Idaho City, Idaho, was sentenced Wednesday to be shot to death on Sept. 1.

Woods was convicted of the murder of his wife, Marietta Woods, whose charred body was found in the woods apartment here on Jan. 9.

Woods stumbled from the blazing apartment and told a story of two bandits whom he blamed for the killing. The state's theory was that Woods killed his wife to secure $10,000 insurance.

PUNISH MURDERERS AT HERRIN, DEMAND OF COL. ROOSEVELT

Process of Law Must Wipe Out Blot, Elks Told. Sounds Warning Disregard of Law Menacing Nation, Says Assistant Navy Secretary.

The Associated Press.—The process of law must be done in the cases of those responsible for the recent massacre of coal miners at Herrin, Ill., "regardless of the consequences as a nation," Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt declared Thursday in an address to the Elks National convention.

"I know not who was to blame, whether employer or employee—perhaps both—but if our country is to stand, we must mete out justice in this case regardless of the affiliations. A blot of this kind on our escutcheon cannot be wiped out in any manner and one manner only—by due process of law. If we are to exist as a nation, we must be law-abiding. On the law depends our society. Destroy law and the country ceases to be a nation over night. Without law our civilization crumbles."

Illinois is but an instance, though a ghastly one, of our reckless disregard for our laws, made by our selves. If we love our country; if we believe in civilization, it is our solemn duty now, as never before, to throw our weight behind the law and the law-abiding citizen.

There is a doctrine abroad in the land which is just as destructive. This doctrine is that our function in life is to get by with as little work as possible. "We must work toward the condition of affairs whereby we may correctly include to those engaged in industry, rather than to employer and employee."

Shell Blast Is Fatal to 8 Children

Watertown, N. Y.—Eight children, ranging in age from 11 to 15 years, were blown to pieces Wednesday by the explosion of a seven-inch mortar shell on the back porch of a house in Dimmock street, occupied by Edward G. Workman and William L. Salisbury.

Mermaids' Threat Breaks Strike of Beach Lifeguards

Ocean City, N. J.—Learning that a bevy of mermaids, headed by Ethelma Biebtrey and Ada Taylor, champion swimmers, had volunteered to go into the life saving business here "in the interest of humanity," male beach guards have called off their strike for more pay.

Ghost of Strike Takes Sleep Out of Sleepah Pawtuh

"What, ah's gonna be in there with them strikebreakers? Why, man—"

It was the negro porter on the sleeper brought here from Chicago to house the two strikebreakers at the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul roundhouse and any others that may be employed. He thought he was to come to Janesville to take a sleeper on a run from here. The explosion was that of a warning torpedo which some practical joker had placed on the track.

Road Executives Balk Peace Move; Parley Is Refused

Washington.—Secretary Weeks Thursday instructed Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, commanding the eighth army corps area at San Antonio, Tex., to prepare a sufficient force to protect the properties of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas lines, which are in the hands of receivers appointed by the United States court.

The secretary acted after receiving an appeal from C. E. Schaaf, the receiver of the line, for protection. Mr. Schaaf declared the state protection was only partial and that many of the employees of the road had been beaten up and commerce was being interfered with by the strikers.

Peace Move Checked

Chicago.—B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, Thursday sent a telegram to President Harding replying to the president's proclamation on the strike situation and opening a new phase of the grievances of striking railway shopmen.

NORTHWESTERN RY. MAY DISCONTINUE RAIL SHOPS HERE

CONCENTRATE IN LARGER CITIES, TENTATIVE PROPOSAL. FARM OUT WORK Locomotives and Box Cars Go to Private Plants Under New Plan.

Northwestern railway shops may be discontinued in cities the size of Janesville and the equipment and repair work concentrated in larger cities. If the strike of shop craftsmen continues.

This warning was sounded here Thursday by H. B. Loucks, Jr., Madison, traveling agent for the railroad. The first move toward this end will be started at once, Mr. Loucks said, and work will be farmed out as soon as plants can be found to accept it.

Fifty locomotives, essentially in need of repairs, would be placed in private shops immediately. Ten of classes R and R1 will be hurried to Manitowish. Forty others of classes J and B from all divisions will be sent out to the great locomotive works.

Sharp reports, resembling the crash of a pistol, occurred near the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul roundhouse after midnight Thursday causing rumors of trouble between guards and strikebreakers.

Keypers Nabbed

At least two locomotives will be sent out from Janesville for repairs under this plan.

Seeks Opinion on Ship Booze

Washington.—Views of the various interests in the question of the legality of the sale of intoxicating liquor on American vessels on the high seas, as well as foreign vessels coming within the three mile limit, were sought by Attorney General Daugherty in opening hearings on the matter Thursday, prior to tendering a formal opinion. The opinion was requested by internal Revenue Commissioner Blair.

Traction Line Will Be Taken Over by Beggs

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Milwaukee.—The Milwaukee Northern company, with assets in excess of $4,000,000, will be taken over by the North American company, according to John I. Beggs, president of the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company. The North American company is owner of the latter company's common stock.

Mr. Beggs Says the Transfer to the North American Company Has Not Yet Taken Place, but Will Be Arranged Soon.

The purchase of the Milwaukee Northern by the North American company will virtually mean unified control for all electric lines radiating from Milwaukee, except the Chicago and North Shore line, which is an interstate railroad.

With the interurban system to all cities within a nearby radius, Mr. Beggs also is in line in the Fox River valley, controlled by the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company, which connects Neenah, Menasha, Appleton and Oshkosh. A few connecting links, Mr. Beggs and his company will control electric roads which will tap the entire eastern section of the state, including lake shore counties, extending to the northern limit of the Fox River valley and going west and southwest into the interior of the state.

CARS DAMAGED IN FRANKLIN ST. CRASH

Two bantams and broken springs were the result of an auto accident Thursday morning at the corner of West Bluff and North Franklin streets. A machine owned by Michael Burns, Janesville, smashed into the car of Thomas Wesley, Edgerton. Burns was driving east, on Bluff street. At the intersection at Franklin street he headed north and straight into Wesley going south. The car belonging to Wesley had its front axle bent and the front springs broken. The damage was about the same to Burns' machine. The crash was between the two parties.

DIXON, FOUND SANE, IS FINED $1 FOR STEALING MILK

A mental examination made Wednesday by Drs. Gerald Woolf and Frank Van Kirk of Ben Dixon showed that Dixon is sane in every respect. Dixon was arrested last week for stealing a quart of milk. He was fined $1 and costs by Judge Maxfield Wednesday. The examination proved that Dixon is sane, and in good health, but that he was a habitual user of intoxicants.

Coal Operators in Conference With Sec. Davis

Washington.—Representatives of bituminous coal operators associations went into conference today with Secretary of Labor Davis after conferring with Hugh Keown, chief of the bureau of conciliation of the department of labor. The conference was understood to involve possible interpretations of President Harding's proposal to bring the nationwide coal strike to an end. The operators included Harry Taylor of Kansas City, president of the Trans-Mississippi Coal association and the South Western Coal association, who has been the floor leader for the bituminous operators at their various conferences in Washington since the coal strike situation became acute.

Buggs to Build $1,700 Addition

A building permit was granted to Paul Buggs Wednesday to make an extension on his garage, 519 Wall street. The estimated cost of the work is $1,700. The A. Leath company was issued the permit to remodel its building at the corner of West Milwaukee street and North Franklin street at a cost of $300. Other permits issued were to Charles Glass, new porch, cost about $150, and C. W. Miller, shop at 475 Eastern avenue.

The condition of rolling stock after 13 days of the strike is shown by the fact that five changes of locomotives were necessary on the run of a Northwestern train from Chicago to Madison, 129.7 miles. There is not an extra car left in the South Janesville yards of the Northwestern, nor any engines in reserve. The St. Paul has but three old type locomotives available.

Within a month, the St. Paul expects two new freight locomotives to be delivered here. They will be of the 3,300 series, constructed at Pittsburgh by the Baldwin Locomotive works, and will be the largest and most modern in use here. The first of 25 of this type has just been delivered at the Milwaukee shops.

The case of two firebuilders, members of the maintenance of way local, is now being taken up by Henry Cadman, local chairman. These men were at work at the St. Paul roundhouse and are said to have refused to fill grease cups, one of their regular jobs. The men say they were "fired," while the St. Paul officials declare they left their jobs and refused to return. Supt. J. A. MacDonald of the Madison division visited them here and offered to take them back, paying them for the two days they were off and informing them they would not have to fill cups.

Trains continue to run late. No additional strikebreakers have been hired.

COUNTY FEELS NO TEACHER SHORTAGE

Majority of Districts Already Cared for—35 in Summer School.

Although reports from throughout the state are to the effect that there is a shortage of 600 rural teachers, no shortage will exist in Rock county the coming year according to reports from the county superintendent's office. Nearly all the schools have hired teachers although it is only mid-summer and there are a sufficient number of Rock county training graduates to fill existing vacancies it is believed.

Perhaps one of the biggest reasons long without teachers is the high pay for Rock county schools not going standard of salaries paid which are on a par with any county in the state. The average according to Prin. Frank J. Lowth of the Rock county training school is about $115 to $120 monthly. The highest is $160. Showing the beneficial results from conducting a county training school Mr. Lowth said that 65 to 70 per cent of the teachers last year in the rural schools of Rock county were county graduates. Never has a graduate failed to get a position. Most of them are located in Southern Wisconsin. A record for a first year salary of a Rock county school graduate was made by Florence Wilman of Milton Junction who has been engaged to teach in Jefferson county at a salary of $115.

There will be seven more teachers available for positions at the end of the summer session, July 28. These are students who entered late. Thirty-five have enrolled in the summer school and are working for either first or second grade certificates. A first grade certificate entitles the holder to teach any grade in grade school and makes her eligible for a principalship of a state graded school.

OBITUARY

Funeral of Harry M. Loudon.

The funeral of Harry M. Loudon was held at 3 p. m. Wednesday from the Loudon residence, 112 North Washington street. The Rev. J. A. McCreese, Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Loudon was a member, officiated. All members of the Moose lodge, were David Reese, Howard Hafferty, Robert Daly, Floyd Adams, Albert Brohm and Glen Brady.

The funeral was largely attended with 150 railroad men marching to the home in a body. Burial was in Oak Hill cemetery. Mr. Loudon was born in 1885 in Janesville, where he spent his entire life. He was a young man respected and loved by all. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. May Genevieve Loudon, and two sisters, Miss Genevieve Loudon, who makes her home with her mother, and Mrs. J. H. Behrman, all of Janesville. Out of town relatives who attended the funeral were Dr. and Mrs. Dornblazer, Amboy, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy and daughter, Elmer Graybill and Margaret Helen Kelly, Janesville.

THEY WILL WED

Marriage licenses have been applied for at the Rock county clerk's office by the following: Alfons Almer and Edna Nystad, Rockford; Elmer Graybill and Margaret Helen Kelly, Janesville.

ROTARDALE BOYS LOATH TO BREAK CAMP FOR HOME

Far from showing any homesickness after ten days in camp, the second group of Rotardale campers, on their long trip home late Wednesday afternoon, all expressed a desire to attend another period. Every boy seemed to be sorry to leave.

The truck, which took the third group to the lake camp in the afternoon, was stuck twice on the way, delaying the trip. Consequently those coming home on the return trip did not arrive in the city until 7:30. J. M. Dornan, went out and returned with the boys. He reports the camp in excellent condition, improved by the addition of a launch, the donation of James Killef. The boys are repairing the battery for it so it will soon be in running condition.

The boys now at camp, the last period or boys will return July 2. The first of the four girls' camps, which will run into September, will open July 26, with a large group of grade school girls going out. They will use the same army truck that has been in operation for these first three groups.

Druggist of Palmyra Must Stand Trial

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Waterbury.—Matthew P. Baldwin, druggist of Palmyra, arrested several weeks ago after an investigation by state prohibition officers who became convinced that many of the prescriptions on file in his drug store were bogus, was found over for trial in the Jefferson county circuit court when he had a hearing before Justice Fred Schumacher, Wednesday.

Baldwin will probably be tried in September. No contest was made in the preliminary examination, and no witnesses were placed on the stand. Baldwin is charged with selling whiskey without a license. State agents claim that the names of physicians who are reported to have issued the prescriptions in question do not exist.

Further investigation of the writers of the prescriptions is being made.

FIRE DEPARTMENT PAINT JOB BUT $90

Refinishing of the fire department's six motor-driven vehicles has been completed at a cost of $90.40. Chief C. J. Murphy said Thursday. Two dollars of this amount will be borne by Philip Doherty for painting the chief's new Oldsmobile roadster so that the net cost to the city of putting equipment in such excellent shape will be only $88.40. Two other cars were re-painted and varnished while the remaining three trucks were varnished only. Chief Murphy is considering a plan to repaint the aerial ladder outfit and the reserve horse-drawn wagon.

STARTS REPLEVIN TO RECOVER CAR

A replavin action to recover a car court, Thursday. Janesville against Alice Rich, also of this city. In the affidavit filed Rice claims that the machine, a Ford valued at $275, is unlawfully detained by the Rich woman. The case was held open.

ANOTHER FALSE ONE

The second false fire alarm. In two days was turned in at 9:15 Wednesday night from box 65, corner of Center avenue and State street.

PAPPAS ANXIOUS TO FACE GRIMM

Greek, Four Months in Jail, Awaits Arraignment Monday.

Most important in the cases which Judge George Grimm will hear Monday in the all-day session of Rock county circuit court is the plea of Nick Pappas to a second degree murder or fourth degree manslaughter charge, lodged against him following the death on May 21 of John Slack, 54, of Beloit at Mercy hospital, here.

Pappas has been in the Rock county jail four months following his arrest at Beloit as he was escaping to Rockford. He has taken on much weight and has been forced to diet. Pappas is a native of Greece and has been in this country 15 years, most of the time in Beloit. He is unmarried.

What plea he makes Monday is up to his attorney, he said Thursday. He is tired of life in a cell and is anxious for Monday to come. Pappas claims he carried the gun with which he shot Slack for protection in his coffee shop in Beloit. He said he had it when he got drunk on moonshine given him by a friend the night of the shooting.

Conviction on the less serious of the two charges, fourth degree manslaughter, would mean a sentence of one to four years in state prison.

Kiwanis Hears Talk on Parks

Janesville has many prospects of city parks along the river bank, declared L. M. Webber, Madison, of the Lake Forest Development company, in speaking to members of the Kiwanis club here at noon Thursday at the Grand Hotel. He told of the plan of building up the lake shore lines in Madison, and the course that could be pursued in Janesville to build up the river bank and city parks.

As the addition of city parks is part of the program of the Kiwanis club, the talk was especially interesting. It is hoped to arouse sentiment here and secure some action.

Mr. Webber was the guest of P. H. Korst.

Blaine, Baker, in Many Talks

Rock and Walworth counties were invaded Thursday by two political campaigners on opposite sides of the political fence of the republican party. Governor J. J. Blaine's literary calls for speeches at East Troy, Lyons, Elkhorn, Whitewater, Delavan, Sharon, Walworth and Lake Geneva. He will not be in Rock county until Saturday, when he makes 15 stops and will be in Janesville at 2:30 p. m.

John P. Baker, Madison, the republican conference's endorsed candidate for attorney general, makes his keynote address at Edgerton at a meeting Thursday night. During the day he speaks at Evansville, Magnolia, Footville, Orfordville, Hanover, Milton Junction, Milton, Lima Center. Friday he will be in Walworth and Racine counties, and Saturday in Walworth and Rock counties, speaking in Janesville that evening.

As certain as a lighted candle will burn up its wax—

EVERY informed man and woman knows that the most important of all rules of health is moderation.

The man or woman who overeats is sowing the seeds of ill-health. Just as certain to shorten life as a lighted candle is sure to burn up its wax.

To feel your best, to do your best work, to keep healthy for many long, happy years, you cannot afford to eat heavy, indigestible food.

That's why men and women of energy and activity everywhere make Grape-Nuts a regular part of their diet.

Grape-Nuts is a sensible food, delicious, nourishing, satisfying and sustaining—a cereal food baked for 20 hours and made entirely from whole wheat flour and malted barley.

With milk or cream, Grape-Nuts is a complete food.

You'll find Grape-Nuts sold everywhere—grocers, hotels, restaurants, lunch-counters, etc.

Send every energy to finish the school building. It is to be used before the end of 1922. With the completion, the problem of a community center will be solved. Janesville needs a center where all the people can go to get their news. That will be especially true when the high school is completed and the auditorium is available for entertainment.

Finish the paving of Janesville streets as soon as three city blocks are paved. The city needs a better road system. It is now available for the city and it should not be used for any other purpose. Finish the city and zoning plans.

Minimize the loss of World War soldiers, the living and the dead—to be also in the national building.

HOW SHOULD WAGES BE FIXED?

There will be labor troubles, strikes and lock-outs in this country just so long as there is no definite and well determined manner of wage-fixing. We have gone at the matter of wages in a haphazard manner, using at first as a general rule the demand and supply of labor as a wage-fixing basis and later, negotiations with unions as a determining factor. This is of course an injustice to both the laborer and the employer. We are told that in Detroit in some branches of the automobile business, employers have been bidding against each other for skilled men. A union meets and says wages should be at such a figure. That is usually a little more than the organization thinks the traffic will bear but by reason of the possibility of a strike the employer pays the wage. That is unjust. The employers in fixing a scale of wages will on the other hand be tempted to cut the figure to the lowest notch at which they believe the men will work. That is also unjust. There are exceptions to both these cases in point but the general rule as stated applies. We have an example here now in the shopmen's strike and also in the wage reductions of other railroad employees.

Ever since we have had railroads the wages paid have been inadequate in many lines. There never was a reason in economics why a station agent who performed a score or so of other duties should work along for a lifetime at $40 to $50 a month. We went through an era of stock exploitation and gambling and promotion with the railroads which made it necessary to pay dividends on book values which did not in fact exist. Some one in the big offices, both of the unions and the roads, fixed the wage scale and that is the way it went until McAdoo came along and with the billions of the government at his call, arranged new scales of wages just as ridiculous as they had been before—based on guess work.

One of the troubles with the roads has been that the owners have nothing to do with the men, are not in touch with the personnel of the army of employees, know little or nothing of what the employees have to contend with, are out of tune with the mass of labor, and are interested only in the making of money. The board and financial officers in immediate touch with affairs hire the president and the operating staff and look to them for results. Those desired results are profits. That is natural and deserving. No business should be operated at a loss. The railroads have lost a great deal of money, much of it represented in war operation results. Corrective legislation for each emergency has not succeeded completely but we must remember without political heat or prejudice that when the roads were turned back to private ownership they were in a distressful condition generally. It takes time to rehabilitate such institutions. In effecting economies wage reduction has always provided the line of least resistance. That is another example of the failure of the economic system. That also brings us back to the greater question as to what a correct wage basis should be. Should all roads be alike? Some under the same conditions of law and regulation make money, others lose. Shall the wage scale be the same or differ as the matter of net earnings is disclosed? We are of the opinion that the wage earner would not agree to this proposition. There are any number of factories which have been operating at losses in the last six months or year. What should the wage scale be based upon when that happens? What does the wage earner say?

The Gazette does not and cannot say whether the wage scale as fixed by the railroad labor board is just or unjust. There is no way of determining it on the information at hand. We have seen no reason advanced other than that the reduction was in line with reductions in other industrial lines. The men whose wages have been reduced are sure it is an injustice. The roads say they cannot get back on a normal basis without a reduction. The result is, just as the Gazette has said in the discussion of the coal strike, a grave injustice to the public. The mass must stand the real loss. It is disturbed in its every activity. After this strike and wage difficulty is settled, we will in the near future have another. Wage conflicts follow as day does night. They always will so long as we continue as we are. Clap trap denunciation by demagogues, advocacy of laws which hamper and restrain and eventually ruin, damning the strikers and laborers as radicals and bolsheviks and the owners as blood-sucking capitalists, get us nowhere. The remedies for these things are not in the "First Aid" service but in getting at the very root of the trouble and establishing a just wage-fixing basis for railroads as well as in other industry. Until that is done we shall have the same thing over again in the same manner as we have since the days of 1877 when the first great strike was inaugurated, again through the bloody Homestead conflict in Pittsburgh and the later Debs strike at Chicago.

HEALTH THROUGH OPTIMISM

By FREDERICK A. MASON

New York—Are you ill? Nonsense! You imagine it. Health is simply a matter of belief. If you will gently but firmly correct your misguided imagination by putting it through a regular course of discipline, you will soon discover that really there is nothing at all the matter with you.

At least, so say the exponents of the new psychotherapeutic method which is now proving popular in Europe. It is known by the old, familiar term of auto-suggestion and also by the new term, Couesism, after Emile Coues, a French psychotherapist of Nancy, who has lately gained renown for his sensational cures. Here are the directions.

Every morning before you are fully awake, and every night just as you are on the verge of sleep, close your eyes and murmur 20 times in succession the following rhythmic and reassuring sentence: "Day by day—in every way—I am getting better and better."

That is all there is to it—no medicine, no exertion of any kind, no doctor's bills. No wonder, then, that the new method is popular. The idea seems to be that the human imagination is a silly, impressionable thing, incredibly susceptible to powerful influences over the body. Against its uncanny, primitive strength, the reasoning faculties of the brain are apparently helpless. Careful reasoning may assure you, for instance, that your head is congested and the mucous membranes of your nostrils are inflamed as a result of a cold contracted while sitting in a draught, yesterday, but if you are able to convince your imagination that you haven't a cold and never could have taken cold from sitting in a draught, all the annoying symptoms are likely to disappear. In order to do this, however, it is necessary to meet your imagination on its own childish level with complete simplicity.

"Let the auto-suggestion be made with confidence, with faith, continue the directions. "The greater the conviction, the more rapid and certain will be the results."

"It is well to be provided with a piece of string with 20 knots tied in it so that the counting can be mechanical." In other words, the conscious part of your brain must not be suddenly aroused to action by a sudden quandary as to whether, you have said the sentence 15 or only 14 times.

In addition to the large doses of optimism forced upon the imagination every morning and night it is necessary to keep it strictly in hand at all other times. Whenever thoughts or mental suffering is experienced, say the directions, affirm to yourself that you will not consciously encourage its existence and that you will make it disappear. Then, if possible, close your eyes and isolate yourself. In thought, pass your hands lightly over the seat of the pain, or on the forehead if the suffering be mental, and say as quickly as possible—"It's going!"—as long as the suffering remains. These exercises must be made without effort."

Professor Coues does not claim that auto-suggestion will cure all complaints, however malignant, but says it is a powerful aid in the treatment of ailments ranging from insomnia to paralysis. One of these remarkable cures, recently took place before a large assembly of spectators when Coues was the honored guest of the Institute of Auto-suggestion of London, which has its offices in Grosvenor Gardens. A woman patient, paralyzed in one leg, was brought in a carriage to the office of Professor Coues. As she came in the door in the arms of attendants he stepped toward her and said:

"Why do you not walk? You can try it, Madam, absolutely certain, that you can walk. Try it, Madam, and see if I am not right."

The woman was lowered gently to the floor; she made a tremendous effort, exerting all her will power, and while the onlookers held their breath, she walked. After taking a few steps, she sat down, then rose and walked again. "Gracious," she exclaimed, "this man is a god."

But Professor Coues modestly denies the allegation. He declares that he is merely a professor of optimism and that the patients themselves are their own miracle-workers.

"The explanation is very simple," he says. "There are two things in us, the conscious being who is the master of our will and the unconscious who rules our imagination. Well, there is an antagonism between these two forces, and it is always imagination which prevails."

"If you place a plank 10 yards long and 3 inches wide on the floor you will easily walk along it with your eyes closed, and said that the city would direct where the lines were to be run and the poles put. The telephone company will not give the city improvements until the city leaves out the first demand. Dr. W. H. Palmer is their local representative."

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO
July 13, 1882—Improvements on the telephone in the city are being withheld until the council rescinds its action. The council asked the Wisconsin Telephone company for two free phones for the city house, and said that the city would direct where the lines were to be run and the poles put. The telephone company will not give the city improvements until the city leaves out the first demand. Dr. W. H. Palmer is their local representative."

THIRTY YEARS AGO
July 13, 1892—This year's crops are said to be better than last, when they were unusually good. Tobacco is being raised more and more each year. The corn crop is to be a little smaller. Much damage was done by the storm yesterday. The prohibition speakers of the country are to be here at a meeting in a few days.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
July 13, 1902—Work progresses on the Beloit Delavan Lake and Janesville railroad. The tracks have been laid between Beloit and Rockford, and traffic will start running there July 20. The grading between Beloit and Janesville has all been done, and the men are now laying the tracks. The power house is completed, and the entire road will be open by September.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

FRECKLES AND TAN
Freckles and tan, freckles and tan.
Finest of marks for a glad little man!
Give me the nose,
Turned upwards and spotted,
Pudgy as roses
And sunburned and dotted;
Give me the face
As brown as the berries,
Wearing the graces
God gives to the cherries;
Give me the grin and the glorious span
Of the mouth that is bordered with freckles
and tan.

Freckles and tan, freckles and tan,
Badge of a boy since the world first began.
Hair that is lousied
And grizzled and wiry,
Frequently frowneded
And stubborn and fiery;
Eyes that are never
Dull-colored and wary,
Mouth that forever
Is mirthful and cheery;
Some may resent him, but I never can
The boy that God blesses with freckles
and tan.

Freckles and tan, freckles and tan,
Plaid of a youthful and glorious clan!
Give me the grinning
And mischievous faces,
Waits that need plucking
In several places,
Give me the snickers
Of boyhood and chuckles,
Ill-fitting knickers—
And scared faces and knuckles—
There's where the future may look for its man.

For never a weakling wears freckles and tan.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON

FROM THESE DEPARTURE US.

Men who don brown dannel shirts on Sundays climb the mountains and with much clanging of the nostrils, deep breathing and chest-slapping exclaim: "This is God's country!" Women who want to take up "newspaper work" because they are good spellers. Women who blush when some one mentions Oscar Wilde.

Authors who inform you quite glibly that they "have courted women from Alaska to Zanzibar but have never been in love." The serious young lady who has taken a two weeks' course in Freud and wants to talk about it—James Z. Freigshaff.

Judge Landis says: "A man may gain special distinction by getting up to see the sunrise, but never by staying up to see it rise." But we know some night editors and policemen who have gained distinction at that.

Now that he is getting in Dutch with the senate and house, Mr. Harding may turn to be one of the most popular presidents we have ever had.

Many people do not progress on account of their egotism. The practice of too frequently using the word "I" is often a great handicap in life. Self-praise, self-conceit and vanity make a person unwelcome, socially, and hinder business relations. Besides, when I meet a person who is egotistical, it hinders me in displaying my own egotism—and that is exceedingly annoying.

Prominent author asks if women should choose their mates. Foolish question. They always do, even though the males don't realize it.

One landlord advertised "All modern conveniences, except bathtub."

During the recess of congress, the country will try to straggle along somehow.

We will never have universal peace so long as the radio holds out.

There's always room at the top—of Mount Everest.

Who's Who Today

CHARLES F. MURPHY.

"Boss" Charles F. Murphy, one of the most noted political figures in the United States, is celebrating the twentieth anniversary of his reign as "boss" of Tammany Hall.

In his career as leader he has been credited with nominating 10 governors of New York and electing six mayors of New York city.

He was the man who was mainly responsible for the nomination of James M. Cox for president two years ago and is generally considered the "boss" of the Tammany machine.

The late Richard Croker retired as leader of Tammany in January, 1920. Lewis Nixon, a Tammany politician, succeeded him.

Murphy first attracted notice in state politics when he nominated Bird S. Cooper, now governor, for governor in 1902.

Personal Health Service

IS GALLSTONE DISEASE CURABLE?

The gallstone which lies under your right waistcoat pocket is about the size of a perfume atomizer bulb and holds only an ounce or two of bile. It is in no way connected with the bladder which is the reservoir of the urinary system, though the two bladders are popularly confused and perhaps because of this fact in both.

Notwithstanding the various humbugs which at one time or another have purported to "dissolve" gallstones or to cure gallstone diseases without operation, there is no known method of cure which will accomplish this, if stones are really present in the gallbladder or in the bile ducts. Many, however, have been convinced that some edible oil, such as olive oil, castor oil, or cod liver oil, mysteriously "dissolved" or "removed" gallstones, though the simplest conviction of this seldom lasts longer than the interval until the patient is seized with colic. The masses of gallstones which so many gullible victims of this ancient and still occasionally perpetrated charlatanism mistake for gallstones are more soapy concretions produced by the action of any chemical on bile, and with the natural alkali of the intestine or with the alkali in the sediments or other powder commonly given as a chaser for such concretions. Gallstone disease is not the gallstones that produce the serious symptoms, but rather the inflammation or infection associated with gallstone disease, and medical treatment is of distinct value in controlling this inflammation and thus keeping the patient comfortable and safe.

The medical treatment of a patient with cholecystitis (gall-bladder inflammation) with or without gallstones, includes such "measures" as rest, exercise, diet, mineral waters, medicines which have some antiseptic action, in bile ducts and gallbladder, medicines which alter the reaction of the bile, and various other medical procedures as drainage of the gallbladder through the use of the duodenal tube, appropriate management of reflex stomach disturbance. Of course these remedial measures must be applied to meet the individual intestinal conditions of each case; there is no line of treatment which can be laid down as best for all cases. Since the object of medical treatment is to prevent the return of the inflammation, accidents or events associated with infection or inflammation and so to transform the gallstone sufferer into a gallstone carrier, and the degree of extent of inflammation or infection varies with the individual, it follows that the treatment cannot be the same for all cases.

I am not quite certain whether I should rush to the operating table if using a chaser, either without or without gallstones, but in view of the uncertainty and often unsatisfactory results from medical treatment, the definite, if small, tendency toward cancerous disease in long standing gallstone disease, and the fact that the treatment cannot be the same for all cases, I am not quite TODAY'S RECIPES

Tomato Soup—One can tomatoes, one-quarter teaspoon baking soda, one quart milk, one-third cup of flour, three teaspoons of salt, one-quarter teaspoon of pepper. Put the tomatoes in a large bowl and let them cook at simmering temperature for one-half hour; press through strainer and add baking soda. Make a white sauce of remaining ingredients, roll to white from fire, add hot tomato sauce, mix and serve immediately.

Ice Box Cake—One pound milk chocolate, three eggs (separated), two tablespoon hot water, one tablespoon sugar, one dozen lady fingers.

MUST KEEP WELL
 Mothers in a Like Situation Should Read This Letter from Mrs. Enrico

Chicago, Illinois.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious trouble. I had tried doctors and all sorts of medicine, but I did not get any better. I only felt the pain on my left side, but later I seemed to feel it on both sides. I am a power sewing-machine operator and have a little girl to support. I work in a tailor shop and that sort of work has been very slack this year and I am home part of the time. I do not like to take any chances, so I consulted my friends, and one lady said, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and all your troubles will go away.' I took it and I am now well. Culling Meets in Walworth County
MAY DAM UP NILE FOR IRRIGATION

A series of poultry culling demonstrations and general poultry meetings will be put on by the county agent L. P. Merriam during July and August in all parts of Walworth county. From two to three meetings will be held in each township. At these meetings everyone present will be given an opportunity to practice culling according to the method outlined. In addition help will be given in the solution of farm poultry problems. Other subjects to be discussed at these meetings will be:

What to Feed for High Egg Production
 Building and Remodeling Poultry Houses
 Dipping Hens with Sodium Fluoride for Lice
 Chinchomol for the prevention of mites
 Little Chick Troubles and How to Overcome Them
 Poultry Diseases—Chicken Pox, Roup, Tuberculosis.

Sow Sweet Clover on Planted Fields
 It is a good practice to sow some crop ahead of the cultivator at the last corn cultivation. Rye and rape are quite generally used and both make considerable headway in a favorable season, and some green manure to turn down. Sweet Clover, however, not only will supply fall feed or green manure but helps to enrich the soil by the nitrogen which is derived from the air. This is not true of either rye or rape. Another thing in the favor of sweet clover this year is its cheapness of seed, it costing only about one-half of other clovers.

Where sweet clover is sown in the corn, in the case of winter killing of other clover, it can be left for pasture or hay the next year providing the ground upon which it is sown is sufficiently level.

All in all one has everything to gain and nothing to lose in sowing sweet clover just ahead of the cultivator the last time through. Use iron to break up the soil and scatter the seed with a small hand seeder or by hand.

"Up in the highlands near the Nile source despite the burning tropical heat of the day, one is glad to crawl snugly beneath the blanket when night has fallen. The beautiful blue lake encircled with mountains and dotted with islands leaves much for future explorers to do, as few data concerning it have been gathered and few soundings made. The sudden gusts and squalls which rush down the valleys across it give plenty of variety to its some-time deceptive calm. Hippopotamuses, which the natives hunt for their hides, infest its waters. The mud which has always clung to the Dark Continent still encompasses much of this virtually unknown region, but its promise is great when man learns to harness the power it possesses, to harness it to its thirty and dry sections, and wrest from it the wealth of its natural gifts."

Wash Clothes With Olive Oil

One "bargain" that never tempts me any more is the "popular" white and yellow laundry soap. So and so it is said to rush after such "bargains." But I learned from an expert chemist, who examined 27 such brands of soap that he found every bar was only 1/4 soap and the rest was nasty "filler" without cleaning power. "Filler" is put in to make a little soap look like a full-size bar. "Worse than dirt, was the 'filler'." It rubbed into the cloth, it rots and cuts the threads. All this was proved by

This chemist recommended a large greenish laundry bar made by The Palmolive Co. and called GREEN ARROW. This is the only bar he found that is all soap, pure soap. Besides it contains real olive oil and the Fabrics-maintenance with olive oil soap to restore the freshness and softness of fibers. And I presume every woman knows that olive oil is one of the quickest cleansers known, and the mildest. That's why women so generally favor olive oil in toilet soap and shampoo. But who, in her wildest dreams, ever thought she would be able to get olive oil in an economical laundry bar?

Well, I was indeed surprised to learn it. And I thank my lucky stars I followed the chemist's advice at once. Since then my clothes have looked more beautiful than ever. Every wash makes me "clothes proud."

I am sure your grocer carries GREEN ARROW. Order some today and in a month or sooner you will see a big difference in your clothes, your hands and your work. You'll also notice that you buy a great deal less soap for GREEN ARROW naturally goes about twice as far as ordi-

Janesville Golfers Battle to Tie With Beloit Club, 45-45

FIRST EVEN-UP MATCH IN LOCAL CLUB'S HISTORY

For the first time in the history of golfing in Janesville and the only time in the memory of many golfers that it has happened anywhere, a tie inter-city golf match was played here Wednesday. Janesville and Beloit divided honors on the Magnolia avenue course, 45 to 45. In the previous match of the season, the Bower City linksmen lost to the Gateway city, 50 to 34.

For a while it was thought Beloit had won the match. The peculiar result was discovered when figures of individual scores were rechecked, and an error was found. Then a situation much as resulted at the National open golf meet at Skokie, Wednesday, was disclosed. One of the Beloit players of the Janesville club hit his ball into a hole. Acting upon regularly established local ground rules, finding that the hole was one over par, he burrowed around it, lifted his ball over the rim of his shoulder and resumed his play.

Later, when the matter was spoken of, his opponent, R. Way, claimed the nine on the statement he did not see the play. If allowed, this would have given Beloit the match by one point. The matter was left to the discretion of the games committee of the Beloit club which decided not to claim the point.

Thirty-six Beloiters competed with an equal number from this city. The course was in beautiful shape.

Low count for Janesville was made by A. Schaller with an 81. Dave Foster and B. Rockwell tied for Beloit's low, each having 83. Archie Addy, Beloit professional, was at Skokie Wednesday.

The scores:

Busy Man's Sport Page

BY FRANK SINCLAIR

ONE of the remarkable things about the national golf open meet at Skokie is the large number of new players competing this year. These men are up against stiff competition and few of them will do much. From out of them may come some of the stars of the future.

KEN WILLIAMS and Thillie Walker are running a great race for home run honors in the big leagues, with Rogers Hornsby close behind. Williams tied Walker Wednesday. Friend Seville remarks he'll stay there "dilly" unless untied—like "ken."

"GRANDMA" DOUST of Castille, Ill., is upsetting tradition in the harness races at Aurora. She is the only woman driver in the game. At Belvidere last week, Mrs. Doust took the 2:20 pacing race with Helen Direct. She is supporting her husband's racing team, and proceeds of her winnings.

WHO started the rumor of Ruth's sale to the White Sox? The report was that the White Sox had bought Ruth. The report is undoubtedly true, there is a strong belief that there is something brewing.

GREAT is the interest being shown in the Forest City Riding club. Every effort is being made in the Winnebago county seat to put forth a winning combination. It is a bet that the cavalry troop of Janesville would form a polo team. It not only would find the public discovering that the city has a troop, but would enlarge its ranks.

The Great Rose won Tecumseh stakes in straight heats at Fort Miami. Vaughn hurled Beloit Fairies to 1-1 win over Perrine's Marquette Minors, each pitcher giving but three hits.

Diamond Sparkles—Knocking Hoyt out of the box, the Browns held on to lead of a game and a half over New York—Fruitt, St. Louis' sensational southpaw, fanned Ruth three, once with the sacks full—Ken Williams got 21st home while Rogers Hornsby got 23rd—Faber let Senators down with four hits while Sox winning with Mostil collecting a single, double and triple and scoring three runs—Giants drove Cubs, Alexander to cover and in the fourth to four and a half games—Phillips check Cubs by taking both ends of a double header—Cubs' hits and Hellmuth's 14th home helped Tygers' Louisa Avenue while Rogers' home and Pomelo for 20 hits to win from Boston—Cincy gave Dodgers seventh straight setback—Yellowhorse outpitched Miller but Pirates were hitless in pinches, losing to Braves—Brewer's four runs in the fourth beat Rockford.

Paired with Suzanne Lenglen, Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California is part holder of the Wimbledon women's doubles title.

Light Talk—New York suspends Lynch and Buff pending investigation of money question—Richard M. Jones, 1922 for Dempsey-Willis co.—"Tut" Jackson signed to meet Harry Wills at New York, Aug. 1.

Police nab gamblers at Cubs' ball park.

Joe Nagok replaces Bobby Lynch as Green Bay Manager.

Go After 600 for Shoe Meet

Six hundred entries at the Rock county championship horsehoe pitching tournament at the Janesville fair in August is the goal of the local enthusiasts. This is to be procured, it is hoped, through cooperation with the Evansville fair people in which a home and home arrangement will be made.

A local committee of eight is to be formed to lay plans for the meet. It will probably hold its first session next Monday night.

Matches may be played under the plan. If this plan is carried through, semi-finals and finals would be played at night.

80 Qualifiers May Meet in National Golf

Glenview, Ill.—After halting a day because of a flood for the first time in the history of the event and one of the few times in the archives of golf, the National open championship was resumed at Skokie club Thursday, with the third contingent of more than 100 players striding 33 holes to determine which 24 of their number are eligible to join the 55 survivors of Monday and Tuesday in the championship play at 72 holes Friday and Saturday, the elements permitting.

If Thursday's play produces 24 players for 24th place, the total qualifiers will run into the eighties. While many of the more famous players went through the primal ordeal Monday and Tuesday, Thursday's game contained such excellent players as Wm. Althorn of Shoreport, Emmett French of Youngstown and Bob MacDonald, who won the largest purse in golfdom by taking the Texas open title last winter with a remarkably "low" score. Also there was Fred McLeod who won the title many years ago and has not yet lost his prowess.

It would scarcely require a wiseacre to predict that the record qualification of 67-68-135, made by Jack Hutchinson will not be duplicated and only the most hopeful expected a total that would equal the second best effort made by Walter Hagen of Detroit, which notched 71-70-141 on Tuesday, for the course was slower today.

"WALT" PALMER PUTS TROTTER IN POETIC VEIN

Followers of the trotter and the pacer in this section will recall Walter Palmer, who always was a yearly visitor with his horses to the Janesville fair. "Walt" was formerly mayor of Ottawa, Ill., and now is out in California. He has written a poem that breathes the air, the dust and the pound of hoofs on the oval.

Here it is:

A SPORTS WORTH WHILE.

There's a mighty satisfaction When the fish are biting good. And you quickly get your line, As a lucky angler should. To the chap who is a hunter It must be a joy indeed. To have a sport of merriment Every time you draw a head. There must be a lot of pleasure In game and skill of chase. If you're winning and your partner Is plainly in distress. But oh, the joy worth knowing, That nothing equals quite, Is to feel the thrill of capture When your trotter's working right.

When the morning light is breaking To the roarin' sport of truth, And you grab your cake and coffee, Like you had to catch a train. When the wife in blank amazement Finds you up why you're so soon. And explains to yawning kiddies, "Daddy won't be home till noon. When you don your old white season. And kiss them at the door. As you pause to fill the wood box before. That you've passed for weeks before.

Then it is that life's worth living. And the old world's mighty bright. Cause his name's among the entries And your trotter's working right.

When you reach the dusty oval, And you say to "Windy Al," "Just put this horse all on him. And I'll see him up, old pal." When you take the silky gently From his peg upon the wall. And inflate those tires so pesky. That were none too good last fall. When you jog him till his legs are ready. And turn him at the score. And he seems to pull you faster Than he ever did before. Then it is you count your money. He has charmed you by his flight. You just can't be pessimistic When your trotter's working right!

And so to all you sportsmen, Misguided not sincere, Give a bit of information.

Third Net Court Is Nearly Ready

The tennis courts of the Janesville Y. M. C. A. are taking on a different appearance to the credit of the institution which supports them. With the laying out of a third court it was necessary to move the other two courts over. This has been done and the courts made regulation length and permanent markers in the form of iron pipe sunk.

Gates have been hung and the next week will see the courts surrounded by a fence of wire. A reference stand has been erected. The fence posts will be given a coat of white wash.

Leveling of the third court was started this week. It probably will be in fair shape this season. The work will be done under the supervision of E. I. Jolly, in the absence of A. E. Bergman, physical director who left Wednesday for a two weeks' training course at the Lake Geneva association college at Lake Geneva.

Top place in the pyramid of the Janesville "Y" Tennis club changed hands again this week when C. H. Travers beat Don Bolles 5-3; 6-2.

MICHAEL COLLINS NAMED CHIEF OF FREE STATE ARMY

FORMER COMMANDER IS APPOINTED HEAD OF NATIONALS.

CAMPAIGN LOOMS

Extensive Operations are Believed Near in Drive to Quell Rebels.

Dublin.—The provisional Irish free state government's decision to concentrate its energies on overhauling the republicans and establishing order throughout the country before summoning the new parliament is taken to indicate that military operations on a considerable scale are impending.

The republicans, since their defeat in Dublin, have strengthened their position in the southwest and are now prepared to put up a big fight.

Cork is supposed to rank as the republican capital, but the military headquarters are either at Milltown or Limerick.

The situation in Limerick is one of tension. There was sharp fighting in the town Tuesday night, while the other account is that peace is being maintained under a truce.

Meanwhile the national army is reported to be strengthened daily, recruits being sent to various depots for intensive training.

REPUBLICANS CLAIM

GENERAL CAPTURED

Dublin.—A republican communiqué issued at Cork says that at Clonsilla, county Limerick, the republicans captured Lieut. General Hayes and Connolly of the free state forces with their men and 20 rifles.

The republicans also claim the capture of a post near Clonsilla, Tipperary.

NATIONAL FORCES IN WEST ARE VICTORIOUS

London.—Continued victories for the national forces in the west of Ireland were reported in a Central News dispatch from Dublin. The insurgents have been entirely driven out of the town of Galway. They tried to encircle the free state troops, but were surrounded themselves and completely defeated with the loss of one killed and 12 taken prisoner, including one of their leaders. A large quantity of munitions and equipment also was captured. The national forces lost two killed and several wounded.

Before fleeing, the irregulars set fire to the public market house, the post office and a number of adjoining buildings.

At Vexford the irregulars had made elaborate plans for a siege, but the night prior to the arrival of the national forces they evacuated the town. The town of Vexford was captured also at New Ross and Gorey.

Ex-Judge to Be Shot on Charge of Wife Murder

Salt Lake City.—Omar R. Woods, a native of Knoxville, Tenn., and former probate judge and present attorney for Idaho City, Idaho, was sentenced Wednesday to be shot to death on Sept. 1.

Woods was convicted of the murder of his wife, Marietta Woods, whose abandoned body was found in the woods about here on Jan. 8. Woods abstained from the blazing apartment and told a story of two bandits whom he blamed for the killing. The state's theory was that Woods killed his wife to secure $10,000 insurance.

Neither Woods nor his daughter, who has stood by her father throughout the trial, displayed emotion when sentence was pronounced.

Woods was told that under the verdict the death penalty was the only sentence that could be pronounced and was asked to name his preference, shooting or hanging. He answered with the single word: "Shooting."

"I sentence you to be shot until you are dead some time between sunrise and sunset on Sept. 1, 1922, within the interior walls of the state penitentiary," Judge Hanson replied.

STORIES CLOSE

For the first time this summer merchandise stores of Janesville were closed Wednesday afternoon. Stores will be closed throughout the months of July and August.

Hay Time Is Here

They Will Aid in International No-More War Demonstrations.

Washington.—Ten nations are participating this year in the "No More War" celebration, to be held July 23 and 24, the anniversary of the outbreak of the World War. Special co-operation has been asked of all the local branches of the National League of Women Voters by Miss Katherine Ludington and of the W. C. T. U. by Mrs. Ellis Yost.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, the Women's Committee for World Disarmament, and various other organizations are also co-operating in the movement.

Seven American cities, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Washington, Boston and Detroit, are arranging special demonstrations varying from a torchlight procession to an all-day relay parade.

Mrs. J. Borden Harrison is assisting with the organizing of the demonstration in Washington. She is also a member of the executive committee of the National Council for Reduction of Armaments which is sponsoring the movement.

PUNISH MURDERERS AT HERRIN, DEMAND OF COL. ROOSEVELT

PROCESS OF LAW MUST WIPE OUT BLOT, ELKS TOLD.

SOUNDS WARNING

Disregard of Law Menacing Nation, Says Assistant Navy Secretary.

By Associated Press.

Attorney General Clegg must be done in the case of those responsible for the recent massacre of coal miners at Herrin, Ill., "regardless of whether they are soldiers or civilians," said Col. Roosevelt.

Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt declared Thursday in an address to the Elks National convention, a "blot" such as that at Herrin, he asserted, "can be wiped out in only one way—by process of law."

"We are in the midst of troublous times," Mr. Roosevelt said, "and there are more ahead. There are happenings day after day which illustrate exactly what I mean."

Atrocious Massacre.

"But a few short weeks ago, in southern Illinois, as atrocious a massacre occurred as is contained in our annals. Men were killed, not clearly killed, but brutally killed and up to the shadow in which I speak, there is no time of which a conviction of the murderers."

"I know not who was to blame, whether employer or employee, perhaps both—but if our country is to stand, we must mete out justice in this case regardless of the affiliations."

"A blot of this kind on our civilization can be wiped out in the manner and one manner only—by due process of law. If we are to exist as a nation, we must be law abiding. On the law depends our society. Destroy law and the country reverts to barbarism over night. Without law our civilization crumbles."

Lawlessness Is Menace.

"Illinois is but an instance, though a ghastly one, of our reckless disregard for our own laws, made by our choice. If we love our country, if we believe in civilization, it is our solemn duty now, as never before, to throw our weight behind the law and the law enforcement bodies."

"There is a doctrine, however, in the land which is just as destructive. This doctrine is that our function in life is to get by with as little work as possible. Where would we be now if our ancestors had refused to work beyond a time sufficient to give them the bare necessities of life?"

"We must work toward the condition of affairs whereby we may correctly call it 'the American dream'—the dream of a better life for all."

and four coaches of the flyer were smashed. A wooden smoking car was telescoped by a steel locomotive. Most of the injured were in the smoking car, many of them being negroes.

Although the accident took place about 6:20 o'clock a wreckage train did not arrive at the scene until nearly two hours later to remove the steel baggage car from the telescoped smoker. Some of the injured were pinned down for that time, although rescue work had succeeded in getting most of them out.

Waterbury, N. Y.—Eight children, ranging in age from 11 to 16 years, were taken to a hospital Wednesday by the explosion of a seven-foot meteor which fell on the back porch of a house in Dimmick street, occupied by Edward G. Workman and William L. Salisbury.

Those killed were: Albert Salisbury, 15; Frances Brown, 12; Vivian Jones, 12; Otto Wilcox, 11; Anson Workman, 13; Edna Workman, 14; Sarah Gorden, 13; and Donald Horton, 12.

The house which was owned by Mr. Workman, was one which he had kept as a souvenir and used on the rear porch to hold the door from closing. It was believed to be "dead."

The children were playing around in the back yard. The shell is believed to have either been set off by the hot sun or to have been struck by one of the children with a quoit mallet. Windows within a radius of two blocks of the explosion were shattered.

Ghost of Strike Takes Sleep Out of Sleepy Pawtuh

"What, ah, gonna be in there with them strikebreakers?" Why, man—

"He was interrupted by a loud report like a pistol shot. 'Wow, they started ahead! Ah, gon' wanna be here! Ah had one experience with strike in Chicago!'

It was the negro porter on the sleeper brought here from Chicago to house the two strikebreakers at the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul terminus and any others that may be employed. He thought he would come to Janesville to take a sleeper on a run from here. The explosion which some practical joker had placed on the track.

BANK OF ENGLAND AGAIN CUTS RATE

Discount Mark Reduced to 3 Per Cent; New York May Follow.

By Associated Press.

London.—The bank of England Thursday lowered its discount rate to three percent, a reduction of one-half percent from the figure established on June 13.

The reduction of the official minimum rate of the bank of England has given the money market a boost. It was anticipated when the federal reserve bank rate in the United States was lowered that the bank of England would do likewise, but hope for this vanished with the tightening conditions in the money market and the collapse of mark exchange as well as heavy borrowing by the government from the bank of England.

The government has since repaid virtually all the money it had borrowed from the bank of England. The reduction also is expected to stimulate the buying of government securities in the stock exchanges.

RENEWED OUTBREAKS

Meanwhile the short lull in which acts of violence diminished somewhat was followed by renewed outbreaks in widely scattered areas. California, Texas and Michigan were among the scenes of fresh disorders.

While Greve, Va., quieted down following the killing of a white electrician by a negro, a riot broke out in a negro camp.

Formerly peaceful camps calmed perceptibly during the last 24 hours. At Bloomington, Ill., state troops withdrew from the Chicago and Alton yards and confined themselves to the city quarter.

At St. Louis, Mo., a mob of about 100 men, with a force of deputies, took over the guardhouse of the yards.

Bloomington still remained one of the tense spots in the country, however.

JURY DEADLOCKED IN DAMAGE TRIAL

Dismissed After 4 1/2 Hours' Deliberation in Ludden-Kapetan Case.

A six-man jury hearing the case of G. P. Ludden, local garage proprietor against George Kapetan, owner of the Central Cafe, West Milwaukee street, for damages amounting to $475, failed to come to a decision after four and one-half hours of deliberation Wednesday afternoon and was dismissed by Judge Harry L. Maxfield. The jury went out at 4:30 and was dismissed at 9 o'clock.

The court will undoubtedly be tried again, although it is possible a nonsuit claim overruled. Wednesday may be appealed by the attorney for the defense.

The suit was brought by Mr. Ludden to recover damages received when his car was wrecked by George Kapetan. The defense maintained that the machine was lent to Kapetan by C. L. Sturell, a salesman of Ludden. Kapetan stated that the salesman had repeatedly tried to sell him a machine and that on the night of March 13 he gave him the machine.

On his return he ran into the driveway of the car on the Detroit road. On his return he ran into a tree near the Samson truck wrecking the car almost entirely. Kapetan testified that the accident was due to defective brakes on the Ludden machine and said that he had not been warned of their condition. The plaintiff attempted to prove a third party was in the car, but failed and had no authority to lead the car.

The jury was made up by Charles H. Jones, J. E. O'Connell and J. W. Tuttle. E. M. Ryan and J. G. Williams appeared for the plaintiff and M. P. Richardson and Stanley Dunmire for Kapetan.

Road Executives Balk Peace Move;

Parley Is Refused

Washington.—Secretary Weeks Thursday instructed Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, commanding the eighth army corps area at San Antonio, Tex., to prepare a sufficient force to protect the properties of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas lines, which are in the hands of receivers appointed by the United States court.

The secretary acted after receiving an appeal from C. E. Schaff, the receiver of the line, for protection. Mr. Schaff declared the state protection was only partial and that many of the employees of the road had been beaten up and commerce was being interfered with by the strikers.

United States marshals were urged to cope with the situation, the receiver said.

PEACE MOVE CHECKED.

Chicago.—B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees' representation of the American Federation of Labor, Thursday sent a telegram to President Harding replying to the president's proclamation on the strike situation and opening a new phase of the government's striking railway problem.

BULLETIN.

Hattiesburg, Miss.—Thurs. Judge J. R. Hines, Thursday denied a petition by the Mississippi Central railroad, asking for an injunction against the striking shopmen interfering with the property of the company here.

One of the most optimistic notes was sounded by E. W. Hooper, chairman of the U. S. railroad labor board, who fostered the rejected conference.

Mr. Hooper announced he had formulated new plans for ending the walkout.

One remaining hope in the peace parley move, Mr. Hooper declared lay in the fact that railroad executives had not been authorized to speak for railway executives generally.

The 12th day of the shipment's strike thus held considerable promise of important developments.

Renewed outbreaks.

2,000 Attend Big Social in Rock Prairie

Janesville people furnished a large part of the entertainment at an ice cream social and picnic held at the Rock Prairie farm, Rock Prairie, Wednesday night, for the benefit of the Community Center of Fairfield. Two quartets from this city entered the singing contest and carried off the prize.

It is estimated there were 2,000 people at the affair, which is held annually.

Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Doane, and E. E. Van Pool and J. C. Koller made up the men's quartet. Miss Delva Sorenson also sang, and gave a reading. Other numbers were given by the boys' band of Janesville, Miss Holt of Delavan, who sang, and a vaudeville company to be seen in the city over the week end.

The lawn was festively decorated. Many people from Janesville and Delavan attended.

Private Fish Hatcheries Are Upheld by U. S. Court

Madison.—The right of owners of lake front property to conduct private fish hatcheries was upheld by Judge Claude L. Luce in the U. S. district court here in the action brought by C. B. Wiele of Chicago against the Wisconsin conservation commission.

Judge Luce held the commission is liable for damages growing out of its failure to permit the use of private hatcheries as a means of spawning and hatching equipment on the property of Mr. Wiele.

NORTHWESTERN RY. MAY DISCONTINUE RAIL SHOPS HERE

CONCENTRATE IN LARGER CITIES, TENTATIVE PROPOSAL.

FARM OUT WORK

Locomotives and Box Cars Go to Private Plants Under New Plan.

Northwestern railway shops may be discontinued in cities the size of Janesville and the equipment and repair work concentrated in larger cities. If the strike of shop craftsmen continues.

This warning was sounded here Thursday by H. B. Loucks, Jr., Madison, traveling agent for the railroad. The first move toward this end will be started at once, Mr. Loucks said, and work will be farmed out as soon as plants can be found to accept it.

Fifty locomotives, essentially in need of repairs, would be placed in private shops immediately. Ten of classes R and R1, will be hurried to Manitowish. Forty others of classes J and B from all divisions will be sent east, some to the great locomotive works.

Would Affect 138 Here.

In addition, negotiations are now being made with private concerns for repairs to 1,000 box cars, said Mr. Loucks.

"We have got to operate," he said. "If the men will not come back to do the work, we will just have to take this action. We have to take the shops out of Janesville. It will be a sharp report, resembling the crack of a pistol, occurred in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul roundhouse after midnight Thursday causing rumors of trouble between guards and strikebreakers.

The reports—a first succession of five and then one of three—were caused by torpedoes placed on the tracks between Five Points and the coal bin. They were run over by a switch engine.

"It is a dangerous practice," George A. Ryan, foreman of the roundhouse said Thursday. "Besides it is costly to the railroad and wastes material."

An investigation has been started to determine who placed the torpedoes on the track.

A bad thing for the men here who own their homes and live here, for it will affect 138 of them."

This is the first time this has happened. It is a temporary expedient to keep trains running, he said, but if the men continue to hinder the plan would be to make it permanent until reorganization of their shop locations is made.

Two Engines from Here.

At least two locomotives will be sent out from Janesville to help under this plan.

"We must do something," said Mr. Loucks, "or we will have to suspend service. It is a temporary expedient to keep trains running, he said, but if the men continue to hinder the plan would be to make it permanent until reorganization of their shop locations is made."

Mr. Loucks conferred Thursday morning with Charles Swan, secretary of the machinists' local here, and member of the publicly committee of the strikers' organization. A report of the conference was to be made to the strikers at their daily Thursday afternoon.

A check of the number of men on strike in Janesville shows a total of 138. Figures given to Mr. Loucks Wednesday night before the meeting, said Mr. Swan.

5 Berlin Bar Keepers Nabbed

By Associated Press.

Berlin, Wis.—Speeding down unexpectedly on this city, state and federal prohibition agents raided five saloons and obtained evidence which caused the arrest of five saloon keepers. They were bound over by a court commissioner to the federal grand jury at Milwaukee, at a special term of circuit court at Green Lake Thursday. The raiders found one of the saloon keepers in his flat above the saloon, pouring liquor down a drain, they said.

ROAD EXECUTIVES BALK PEACE MOVE; PARLEY REFUSED

Thursday was payday on the Alton and the road sent word to striking shompen that the checks would be their final pay, that they would be expected to turn in all passes and other company property, and would no longer be considered employees of the road. Troops remained vigilant as shompen gathered for their checks.

Electricity Beaten Up
 At Denison, Tex., where the strike was marked by disorders during the last two days, an electrician was taken from a M. K. & T. train by a band of men and beaten badly.

Two men were beaten at San Bernardino, Cal., by crowd of strike sympathizers, including women.

Several hundred union men congregated at the "Ray" station at Denison, with the expressed purpose of turning away strike breakers arriving on incoming trains.

Previous threats of the strike spreading to the train service employees was apparently averted by the conference of "big brother" railroad chiefs here and the New York Central apparently had prevented a strike of clerks on its road.

Additional injunctions restraining strikers from interfering with railroad operations were granted to roads in Los Angeles, Hamilton, Mo., Springfield and East St. Louis, and in Iowa. The Northern Pacific railway applied for an injunction in San Francisco.

Protect Marshall's Presence
 U. S. marshals' forces were enlarged at Cleveland to assure protection to the mails and a force of deputies was sent to Sedalia, Mo., where an effort was made to reopen the Missouri Pacific shops.

Striking shompen at Slater, Mo., protested to President Harding against the presence of U. S. marshals and their deputies, who were in control of the Chicago and Alton shops.

St. Paul reported one of the largest movements of strikers back to their old jobs in the shops. The clerks' strike on the Norfolk and Western was effectively interfering with operations on that road.

Union headquarters of the striking shompen issued a statement denying reported violence and that organized strikers were conducting "an orderly, well disciplined strike."

The statement threw the blame for any lawlessness on irresponsible persons, aggravated by the presence of troops, railroad "gunmen" and U. S. marshals.

Act Violation Charged
 The telegram, which also was signed by the six international presidents of the railway shop crafts, declared the strikers walked out because wages fixed by the labor board were in violation of the provisions of the transportation act and because of violation of the labor board's position by the railroads.

The strikers insisted that no interruption of commerce or interference with the mails had been caused by any unlawful acts by the shopmen. The telegram laid such interference directly to the attempt of the railroads to operate with incompetent workmen. President Harding said his associates related their desire to cooperate in any effort to bring peace, but declared that, up to the present, the rail executives had refused to meet representatives of the employees.

50,000 MOTOR VEHICLES CAN BE MOBILIZED
 Washington.—Postmaster General Work today prepared a letter to President Harding notifying the executive that a survey prepared by departments of the government showed that a thoroughly organized fleet of 50,000 motor vehicles could be mobilized within twenty-four hours should the railway shompen strike further interfere with the movement of U. S. mails.

The results of the survey were forwarded to the president as a matter of information, but there was no official indication that use of motor trucks to carry mail was being considered. The prevailing belief in Washington was that should the president's warning against interference with the mails be disregarded, stronger measures were contemplated.

The postmaster general planned to notify the president that this vast fleet of motor trucks could be set at work transporting mails at short notice and that the governors of different states would be asked to arrange matters so that every state owned machine and government vehicle would be placed at the command of the postal authorities in respective states.

FIELD EVENTS TO FEATURE REUNION

32nd Division Will Convene in Madison in August; 10,000 Expected.

Madison, Wis.—One of the most unique methods of taking care of the reunion of the 32nd division veterans' association in this city, late in August, has been decided by the citizens' committee. In eliminating all solicitations and donations and obtaining the revenue from the sale of tickets to a big spectacular field day program to be staged at Camp Randall, Aug. 29 at 2 p. m.

A fund of $15,000 will be necessary to take care of the entertainment, registration and housing for the 10,000 men who are expected to arrive from every state. The field day program is considered a novel and unique attraction, with a championship game of La Crosse played by Fort Rensselaer and Tiger teams from Winnipeg, Can. Thirty-five men will make the special trip to Madison to play this game. Since the announcement has been made that these teams will play, offers of teams have come from Toronto and other Canadian cities and the local athletic club also wanted to participate in the athletic contest.

Advance sale of tickets will start Wednesday and a block of 6,000 tickets will be made available immediately. Ten thousand tickets have been reserved, free of cost, for all 32nd division men, and it is expected fully 20,000 persons will witness the events, which include baseball, football, relay races, day-light fireworks and a number of other novel features.

Persons who contemplate attending the reunion from Wisconsin and Michigan can secure their tickets now by writing to the Red Arrow club, enclosing check for $2 for each ticket desired. The block of tickets now on sale is for the west side, this division to be occupied by the 32nd division men.

Electric Energy Great Asset All Over Sweden

Stockholm—Electric energy from water power will be available virtually all over Sweden when the present constructive program in this field is completed. Four main and many subsidiary lines, under government direction and control, will carry the electric energy to the southern, eastern, northern and western sections of the country.

Electric energy is one of Sweden's greatest natural resources. It is estimated that two years Denmark has been receiving Swedish current over a submarine cable, and it is now proposed to send energy into Norway for the operation of a railroad.

BABIES OF 1922 ARE DRAWING OLD FAVORITE NAMES

The Janesville "flappers" of 1940 will not be known as Gwendolyn, Gloria, Patricia or Marjorie, but will be known by the more simple names of Mary, Margaret, Rose, Ann, and Katherine. Their male companions will not be the Ethelberts, Archibalds, Percys or Horaces, but will be nicknamed by the old favorites, Jim, Jack, Bill and Bob.

A study of the 1922 record of vital statistics kept by Health Officer Dr. Fred B. Welch, shows the plain old names are coming back and displacing the fancy ones. Parents are settling away from naming their children after movie stars and fiction personages.

Among the list of new born babies there are more Mary's, Katherine's, Ann's and Bill's than the more imposing given names. Robert, James, Charles and William seem to be the most popular boys' names, the records disclose.

AMERICANS HIT BY MEXICAN LAND LAW

Chihuahua City.—About 200 Americans, owning more than 10,000,000 acres of land, will be affected by the new land law which has been approved by the state legislature.

Nobody in Chihuahua can own more than 1,000 hectares of land (about 2,500 acres) that is entirely under cultivation; the law provides nobody can own more than 2,500 hectares of land that is half irrigated, or more than 4,000 acres of dry farming land. However, holders of the foregoing amounts of farm land may hold as much as 40,000 hectares of grazing lands.

Under the law, within 60 days from now (about Sept. 1) persons holding more than that permitted by the law must make a selection of what they desire to keep, and the balance must be parceled out under government supervision and offered for sale. Contracts of sale must allow the purchaser 20 years in which to pay, under partial payment plan. Interest must not exceed 5 per cent.

PLAN TROPHIES FOR MINE RESCUE WORK

Washington.—An expenditure of $1,000 has been authorized by congress for the purchase and bestowal of trophies to be conferred by the bureau of mines of the interior department on miners who have performed noteworthy feats in rescue work in time of mine accidents and disasters. The bureau receives many reports of stirring, red-blooded deeds of heroism.

FREE STATE FIELD GUNS FORCE REBELS' SURRENDER

Free State artillerymen about to send shell into rebel stronghold.

Free State artillerymen proved too much for Irish republican rebels in the insurgents' outbreaks in Dublin. The Four Courts building was surrendered after a severe bombardment, as were other strongholds. The battles raged for many hours. The tactics of the Free Staters with their modern equipment proved too much for the rebels.

CHINESE LEADERS WEST POINT BOYS

Rival Heads of Armies Fighting in China Got Training Here.

St. Louis, Mo.—Back in the days from 1914 to 1919, two Chinese attended the United States military academy at West Point. Both graduated from West Point, know as Chang and Wang, the other as Wang. It is said that Chang was a mandarin, while Wang, who is said to have been Chang's valet, was from a lower caste.

Both graduated from West Point, Wang, the valet, getting a higher scholastic ranking than his master, Chang. Both returned to China and for some years nothing was heard from either.

Now, however, developments in the Celestial republic are being followed with close interest by army officers here, since it has been learned that Chang is a brigadier general in the army of Chang Tso-lin, super-tu-chun, or war lord, of Manchuria, while Wang is a brigadier general in the army of Wu Peifu. Thus the former classmates are enemies in the struggle going on for the mastery of China.

They are "friendly enemies."

Yet they are "friendly enemies." Over in Peking is Maj. W. C. Philcox, assistant military attaché at the American legation. Major Philcox graduated from West Point in 1902, along with Chang and Wang, but it was not until he went to Peking some time ago that he learned of the whereabouts of his former classmates. Chang called on him at the legation at the time Chang Tso-lin was the dominant power in Northern China.

Not long afterwards the forces of Wu Peifu were battling at the gates of Peking and Chang's army was in retreat. It was then that Major Philcox learned that Wang was leader of the victorious Chihli army, which at the present time, is the most powerful in China.

Chang and Wang haven't forgotten their cadet days at "The Point." They are carrying on a correspondence with each other through Major Philcox, intent on keeping up the friendship for distance. It is hoped to establish a remainder of Civil War times in America, when some of the most prominent officers on both sides kept up a continuous correspondence with former comrades and classmates in the army forces throughout the four years of strife.

Get Latest Military Lore.

Both the Chinese generals are interested in the progress of military art, especially as it is taught in the American army schools. Both appealed to Major Philcox to help them obtain the latest information and textbooks available. So Major Philcox wrote to the general staff school here and the secretary, Lieut. Col. A. M. Ferguson, had made up two boxes, containing all books, pamphlets and lectures published by the schools, and sent them to Peking.

And now, no matter which faction finally triumphs in China, the army schools here are prepared to take full credit for the strategy that achieves the victory.

GIVE OL' DOBBIN MORE ATTENTION DURING SUMMER

The following rules for the care of horses in summer are issued by the Boston Work-Horse Relief association:

Load lightly, and drive slowly. Stop in the shade if possible. A sponge on top of the head, or even a cloth, is good if kept wet. If dry it is worse than nothing.

Water your horse as often as possible. So long as a horse is working, water in small quantities will not hurt him. But let him drink only a few swallows if he is going to stand still.

When he comes in after work, sponge off the harness marks with sweat, his eyes, his nose and mouth, and the dock. Wash his feet with NOT his legs.

If the thermometer is 75 degrees or higher, wipe him all over with a DAMP sponge, using vinegar water if possible. Do NOT wash the horse at night.

Saturday night, give a bran mash, lettuce and a tablespoonful of sulphur.

Watch your horse. If he stops sweating suddenly, or if he breathes short and quick, or if his ears droop, or if he stands with his legs braced sideways, he is in danger of a heat or sun stroke and needs attention at once.

If the horse is overcome by heat, put him into the shade, remove harness and bridle, wash out his mouth, sponge him all over, shower his legs, and give him two ounces of aromatic spirits of ammonia, or two ounces of sweet spirit of nitre, in a pint of water; or give him a pint of coffee warm. Cool his head at once, using cold water, or if necessary, chopped ice, wrapped in a cloth.

If the horse is off his feed, try him with two quarts of oats mixed with bran and a little water, and add a little salt or sugar. Or give him oatmeal gruel or barley water to drink.

Clean your horse AT NIGHT, so that he can rest well, and clean him THOROUGHLY. The salt dandruff drying on his skin makes him uncomfortable, and often produces sores under the harness.

Do not fail to water him at night AFTER he has eaten his hay. If you don't he will be thirsty all night.

If it is so hot that the horse sweats in the stable at night, tie him outside, with bedding under him. Un-

FILM STAR MUST ATTEND SCHOOL

Good Marks, Attendance and Deportment Demanded by Corporation.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Los Angeles.—The famous Play-ers-Lasky corporation has established a motion picture school for its actors and actresses here and has stipulated that any "pupil" who fails to maintain seventy-five per cent standing in classes, attendance and general deportment is liable to dismissal from the company.

Every member of the Paramount company, which is owned by the corporation, is eligible for admission to the school. "Unlike the student body of the school is not to be a mere outlying the work," the students in this company are persons who already have established reputations in their life work of acting for the screen. Therefore, the purpose of the school is not to instruct in the fundamentals of screen art, except as such instruction may correct minor faults, but to broaden the working knowledge of the members of the company to the end that they may increase their versatility and have a wider outlook on their art."

Two pages of the pamphlet are devoted to rules and regulations for members. Among the regulations are:

"Avoid alcoholic stimulants and late hours.

"Although the stock in trade of the members is their ability to portray emotions, the place for such portrayal is on the screen and not in the studio. Temperament is a valuable asset, but temperament out of control is a nuisance to yourself and everyone about you.

"Be careful of the choice of your associates outside the studio.

"Members are expected to avoid places, people, circumstances and conduct which might in any way bring themselves and the motion picture profession in disrepute. Any member failing strictly to observe this rule is liable to instant dismissal from the company."

OLD CIRCUS MEN MOURN FOR MOLLY

Thousands Sad Over Death of Former Wife of Adam
Forepaugh.

BY DAVID W. WATTS
On Friday last we received a telegram from Walter S. Naezel announcing the death of his wife, Molly C. Naezel, who died at her home in Atlantic City, N. J. Mrs. Naezel was the widow of Adam Forepaugh, famous circus man who died on January 21, 1894, and some eight or ten years later she was married to Mr. Naezel, a banker of Philadelphia, whom she had known for many years.

It was in 1884 that Adam Forepaugh told me he was going away for a couple of days and for me not to tell anyone where he had gone. It was then that he was married to Molly, as she was known by everybody around the show, but it was not until the following year that the new Mrs. Forepaugh made her appearance at the show. She was then 24 years of age and it was not long before she was looked upon as a wonderful woman as everybody around the show came to like her and she always had a kind word for everyone from the workman up to the heads of the departments.

Pflichtful to Husband.
She was born and raised near the Forepaugh homestead, which was 2623 Greene street, and many times she was a little girl some 12 years old on up to womanhood she would drop into the Forepaugh home and play the piano for the famous circus man's entertainment. She could always help to count up the act, and her husband and although he at times would lose his temper and say things that were not altogether pleasing, Molly would often put him by the coat tail and say, "Adam," and would sit down in a chair beside her as though he were a child. She always helped to count up in the afternoon and evening house and even in the worst weather she always insisted she was able to be there as was Mr. Forepaugh.

Kind to Unfortunates.
A man famous in circus business more than a half a century ago by the name of Montgomery was the one who along in the early '70's that his show went on the rocks and he lost everything. He had only one daughter, who married a lawyer in New York and it was there that the old man was making his home when Adam Forepaugh wrote him a letter and sent him a round trip ticket from New York to Chicago to be his guest for two weeks while we were showing on the lake front. The show got in there early Sunday morning and there was the old man waiting to see Mr. Forepaugh and while he was a busy man and had but little time to visit, it was Molly who took charge of Mr. Forepaugh, took him to the best hotel and called for him with her carriage every day and took him back after the show in the evening.

When the show closed the engagement on Saturday evening Mrs. Forepaugh or Molly as she was known, took the old man to the train and saw that he had a sleeper and bidding him good-bye placed $500 in his hands and said, "Mr. Forepaugh, that will be spending money for you during the winter." At that time when the working man would want a few dollars to tide them over until salary day and if they thought they had annoyed me enough in the tightest wagon for short loans, they would wish for a chance when Adam Forepaugh was away from the front door, they could always go to Molly and get their loan. While I never knew her to refuse one, she never lost a dollar during her six years with the show.

Corresponded 20 Years.
And so, it has been more than 20 years since she was connected with the show, yet in all this time she has kept up a correspondence with my wife and she always insisted that she should hear from us once a month. She never forgot us on Christmas. On one Christmas she wrote my wife a letter and sent us a Christmas present and there were books when Adam cards in it, all stamped and directed to her and she wrote on the back of the book to my wife, "Josephine, this is only to remind you that I must hear from you once a month." Two years ago this coming month the tinning show was here and three or four big team drivers, as they were known in the business, who had traveled years ago with the Forepaugh show, asked after Molly and said, "I suppose you and your wife hear from her occasionally?" and they all said she was the greatest woman they ever knew in show business or out. If anyone was hurt or killed around the show, Molly was the one who went deepest into her purse to do what she could for their betterment.

But Molly has gone to her reward and if there is anyone to take her place, I don't know where to look and said, "I suppose you and your wife hear from her occasionally?" and they all said she was the greatest woman they ever knew in show business or out. If anyone was hurt or killed around the show, Molly was the one who went deepest into her purse to do what she could for their betterment.

OUTLINES PROGRAM
FOR SCHOOL TERM
Program for the school term starting in September, now being made out by Miss W. W. Brown, who recently started work at the high school. Pupils made out a list of the subjects they wished to take in the fall. These were: Biology, and the program made out according to the number asking for any one subject.

OILING ASSESSMENTS
Special assessments for street oiling are being worked out by the city engineering department this week. The frontage of each piece of property affected is being computed into one statement. It is planned this year to apportion the entire cost of all oiling equally rather than figure it separately for each street as it is oiled.

POLICE BOARD TO MEET NEXT WEEK
A meeting of the fire and police board called for Tuesday evening was postponed a week due to absence from the city of Secretary T. P. Burns. The meeting was to conduct examinations for admittance to the fire and police departments.

MORRISSEY BACK.
With the return of Assistant Chief of Police Thomas Morrissey, Monday, Officer James Ward left his two weeks' vacation. Officer Leo Lonnertz will go upon the return of Ward.

SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF

State School for the Blind, Delavan—George Meyers, Waynesville, a former pupil of the state school for the deaf, who recently became blind by a pitched ball, has entered the state school for the blind at Janesville to learn to read Braille. Mr. Meyers is a brother-in-law of Prof. Thomas Hagerly of the state school faculty.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Williams and daughter, Helen, returned this week for a ten days' visit with Mr. Williams' sister in Wausau. A son was recently born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Olson (nee Annie Gersdorf), Sioux Falls, S. D.

Messers, and Ames, Lester Jenkins and Glen Porter, Cuba City, were guests of Suppl. and Mrs. Emily Bray Thursday.

Marion Karpay, Brechard, has accepted a position with Mrs. Henry Roslund.

Baseball and football fans of a decade ago will regret to learn of the recent death of Jersey City, N. J., of Henry Edgar Calkin, one of the finest athletes and most powerful young men who ever attended the state school for the deaf.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pleasant, who have been spending the past two weeks visiting friends and relatives in St. Paul and Minneapolis, passed through Delavan last week on their way to Dayton, O., to visit Mr. Pleasant's old home.

Miss Anna Smith, supervisor of the little girls at the state school, left Monday for a visit in Chilton, Ironwood, and other points in the northern peninsula of Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Towne of the state board of control, and Mr. Devoe, bridge inspector of the state highway commission, accompanied by his wife, spent several days at the state school last week. Mr. and Mrs. Towne made several trips from here to the state school for the blind at Janesville and the school for the deaf at Delavan Sunday.

John Moore, for the past two years boys' supervisor at the state school, visited in Delavan Sunday on his way to Chicago, where he is attending a school of seamanship this summer.

Miss Harriet Withers, field worker for the state school for the deaf, left Sunday night for a ten days' trip to Madison, Virginia, Redsburg, La. Crosse, and other parts in the north central part of the state.

The contract for the laundry at the state school was let by the state board of control Tuesday. Construction will begin immediately. The contract for the installation of a refrigerator and ice plant in the present cold storage building will be let later in the week.

Charles Dunn, vocational instructor, left Tuesday for a two weeks' trip to Spirit Lake and Terrill, Ia., to visit his brother and family.

ALASKAN VOLCANO DARKENS SAHARA

Startling Effects of 1912
Eruption Revealed by Scientist.

Boston — When Katmai volcano, in Alaska, blew off its top, the cloudless sky of Sahara was overcast and the United States had the coldest summer of 1912, which weather observers could not account for at that time, according to Dr. Robert P. Griggs, who spoke recently before the conference on geography, National Education Association, here.

The eruption occurred in New York city, not a soul would have survived on Manhattan, the thunderous noise would have rolled across the central states and would have killed the people just even in St. Louis, and the sulphur fumes would have polluted the air of all the territory east of the Rocky mountains, the speaker said.

So remote is Katmai that not a soul was killed in this terrible upheaval, and the amazing effects are just becoming known as the findings of the National Geographic Society expeditions, of which Dr. Griggs was the leader, are announced.

For the first time a scientific expedition of this kind was accompanied by motion picture camera men and remarkable motion pictures of the former Katmai volcano and the adjacent Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes were exhibited.

While Katmai's explosion was the invitation to scientific study, the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes, which the expeditions discovered, will be a perpetual laboratory for scientists and one of the most remarkable scenic playgrounds among our national parks, and displaying phenomena to be seen nowhere else in the world.

BLAINE'S PAROLE OF
EX-POLICEMAN VALID
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison—Gov. J. J. Blaine was acting within his authority when he directed the parole of Otto Meyer, former Milwaukee policeman, serving a five year sentence in the Milwaukee house of correction, J. E. Messerschmidt, assistant attorney general, advised the state board of corrections Tuesday. Meyer is now out of prison on a writ of habeas corpus.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE SAFE DRIVERS' CLUBS THROUGHOUT STATE

Milwaukee.—Organization of Safe Drivers' clubs throughout Wisconsin is planned for during the next year, according to Charles M. Williamson, head of the safety division, Milwaukee Association of Commerce.

The Safe Drivers' club of Milwaukee, which has completed its membership drive, and now has enrolled throughout the county 10,281 drivers who are in favor of "safe driving."

During the past year the club has worked hard in putting into effect a number of traffic regulations to improve the arterial highway system, which compels all drivers to come to a dead stop before turning on a boulevard or main street, although cooperation of the state highway commission for the advancement of safe driving and has helped to reduce the number of deaths caused by automobiles during the past year.

SCHOOL TAXES CAN'T BE DIVERTED, OPINION
Milwaukee.—Taxes collected for school purposes and not used, cannot be diverted to other uses nor can they be returned to the taxpayers, J. E. Smith, assistant attorney general, held Tuesday. He advised John C. Johnson, superintendent of public instruction, that the attempt of a school board in Taylor county to refund taxes to the taxpayers, because of difference having arisen among the people or the school board, is so abhorrent to the Wisconsin school system and laws and to common sense as to need nothing more than mere statement to be rejected.

ONLY $4,000 RAISED
FOR STORM VICTIMS
Madison.—The people of Wisconsin failed to respond to the appeal for relief from the tornado victims in northern Wisconsin, according to Henry Johnson, state treasurer. Less than $4,000 has been donated to the relief fund which the governor hoped would reach $20,000. Expenses of the district who lost all of their belongings in the storm are doing their best to rebuild the storm stricken district, the treasurer reports. They are in need of funds to tide them over the present year and to provide means of reconstructing their farm buildings. Crops of the district covering four counties are almost a total loss.
